

WHOLE NO. 2194
ESTABLISHED IN THE YEAR 1859

1

ELLISON BROS. - HICKMAN, KY.

Read What the President of the Royal Tailors Says:

By all odds the Largest Merchant Tailoring Establishment in the world.

"I am doing something no other tailor in the world can do!"

Something that is shaking the Merchant Tailoring Business from Head to Heels.

I am guaranteeing my made-to-measure (The Royal Tailors) clothes to hold their style until worn out.

Here are the exact words—weigh them, think what they mean to every man that wears clothes:

"I Legally Guarantee This Royal Tailor Suit or Overcoat to Keep its Style Until Worn Out."

Not for a day or month or six months or a year, but

"Until Worn Out."

Not merely to hold together—but to "keep its style."

Not a mere promise or talk to catch trade, but

"I Legally Guarantee" Royal Tailoring Under the Law—

In writing—signed in pen and ink.

Your suit or overcoat will keep its style from the day you first put it on until you throw it aside, worn out.

My guarantee is backed by $1,000,000.

Why don't other tailors give a guarantee like this?

Do you know what I had to do before I could make this guarantee?

I had to spend years of study and thousands of dollars to find a Process that would take all the shrink out of cloth and linings.

I succeeded at last. My process is a secret one. It takes out every inch of shrink. Shrink is what kills style in clothes.

For proof of this just look at the coat you have on.

See the two big wrinkles across the back—the wavy curves and wrinkles down the front—

Yet you paid for a good coat.

Nine out of ten coats you ever bought have those same wrinkles.

Caused by shrinking on the first hot or rainy day after you put on the suit.

Pressing the suit may bring back the smoothness and creases.

But when the wrinkles and wavy curves have been planted there by shrinking—the style is gone forever.

Every honest tailor tries to shrink his goods before cutting. But try as hard as he can, he can't get all the shrink out.

My secret process shrinks "Tailor Shrunken" goods five per cent more.

This five per cent of shrink which other tailors must leave in their cloth and linings—is what ruins the style of their clothes.

My secret process takes all the shrink out—

Every last inch.

Then when Style is sewed into Royal Tailor Clothes—it stays there forever.

PRICES

Good made-to-order suits and overcoats can be made for $15.50.
A suit or overcoat tailored from the costliest imported woolsens should not cost you over $40.

I make the finest suits and overcoats in the world for $15.50 to $40 in the latest New York styles.

If you pay more than that—some tailor is charging you an exorbitant price.

Some of the best dressed millionaires in New York and Chicago wear Royal Tailors Clothes.

The average price they pay me for a suit or overcoat is $27.

I make over 1,000 suits a day—or 300,000 suits every year.

I buy the very finest London Woolsens and linings.

You can see at once that I can buy them much cheaper than if I bought for only one or two suits.

Half of what I save in buying large quantities goes to pay the best cutters and tailors money can get.

The other half—$10 to $20 a suit—I give to you to get your business.

Now you see—

Why my guarantee is shaking the merchant tailoring business.

How I can give this guarantee.

Why The Royal Tailors clothes hold their style when no other clothes can hold theirs.

And why a $15.50 to $40 Royal Tailor suit or overcoat is as good as money can buy—and still saves you $10 to $20.

MEASUREMENTS

The New System my local dealer has for taking your measurabsolutely guarantees a perfect fit.

When you get your suit or overcoat it will fit you.

Royal Tailoring is not expected to fit every man in town. A Royal Tailor suit or overcoat will fit no one else but you—because it was made from your exact measurements.

TO GET THE GUARANTEE

Remember no other tailor gives—or can give—the solid guarantee I give.

Therefore, be sure you get the Royal Tailors Clothes—the only clothes insured by this guarantee.

My dealer in your city has the Royal Tailor sample book showing over 500 of the latest and finest London woolsens.

When you pick out your suit—

Look for the two tigers at the top of of the sample page—

Or for the tiger's head on celluloid strip on bound cloth samples.

You will get the guarantee—signed and made out legally just like any other solemn legal contract—with the suit when delivered.

Don't take the suit—or any suit—without the guarantee.

The Making of Clothes

THE MAKING of clothes to measure involves many intricate operations, each of these operations must be performed by an expert, otherwise the suit is irretrievably ruined and not fit to wear.

Our Chicago Clothes Makers, Ed. V. Price & Co., select their operatives with care and every man in their employ represents the best in the professions represented. This means more money expended, for high grade tailors command the best wages, but it also means better made, better fitting clothes for you at less price than the small tailor can or will give you.

They have facilities for absolutely fitting each suit over the lines and curves of the body—suits that carry distinctiveness and style and are their own insurance on durability.

Call and see the 500 Fall fabrics we are now showing.

The Fulton Evening Record ceased publication with the issue of September 7th. The publishers say they found the venture unsuccessful and unprofitable. They will continue to run their job rooms. We regret to learn of this condition of circumstances, as the Record was rapidly climbing in the journalistic field, and had an excellent news service.

New Attractions

Added Daily!!

Union City's Fair Program

Union City, Sept. 12th—Applications for space for exhibits and amusement shows are pouring in on Mr. J. W. Woosley, Secretary of the West. Tenn. Fair Association at a rate heretofore unknown, and notwithstanding the size of the buildings and the grounds, it is evident that everything will be filled to its capacity. The Woman's Building has been enlarged until its capacity is about double that of the original structure and every inch will be occupied by exhibits of special interest to the fair sex.

If there was nothing more to be seen at this fair than its horticultural, agricultural, floral, fine arts, domestic arts, culinary, mechanical and live stock and poultry exhibits it would be worth coming a long way to see. But when to all these is added so many other attractions not usually seen at fairs, it would simply be a misfortune for anybody to miss it. A glance at the premiums offered and the large number of special high class features will at once indicate the superior order of things for this event.

Frank Smith's great airship is undoubtedly the most extraordinary free attraction ever offered by a fair association. This wonderful flying machine is nearly 100 feet long and capable of carrying passengers. Mr. Smith will make an ascension every day of the meeting. Officers of the First Regiment, Confederate Veterans, have issued an order for the old soldiers to escort Governor Patterson as a gural of honor to the Fair Grounds on Governor's Day, Friday, Sept. 27th. They will be accompanied by the First Confederate Veterans and Second Tenn. Regimental Bands. Immediately on arrival at the Grand Stand, the Governor will make an address.

Wednesday, Sept. 25th, will be School day. There will be competitive drills open to all schools and first and second prizes will be awarded. All school children accompanied by teachers will be admitted to the grounds free. The racing—trotting, running and pacing will be the finest ever seen in this section, and lovers of fast horses will be agreeably surprised at the entry sheet for each afternoon.

The N. & C. and M. & O. railroads are out with large posters announcing reduced rates of one fare plus 25c for round trip from all points to Union City, tickets being good from Sept. 24th to 29th, inclusive, and they are arranging for a large number of cars to accommodate the crowds.

Fuqua-Amberg.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fuqua, Tuesday evening at 9:30, the words were spoken by Rev. H. C. Johnson which made Miss Maybelle Fuqua the wife of Henry L. Amberg.

The wedding was a quiet affair—beautiful for its simplicity. Only a few of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present.

The universal popularity of the young people makes it very unnecessary for us to dwell on the eulogy to which they are so justly entitled. Suffice it to say that the bride is one of the most lovable and accomplished young ladies in this grand old commonwealth. Mr. Amberg is a son of Mrs. Alice Amberg and the junior member of the firm of Smith & Amberg. He has by honesty and industry established for himself a reputation in both the business and social world of which he may justly feel proud.

Our young friends left Hickman on the 10:30 train on a wedding trip which will last several weeks and cover the principal points of interest in the East. Here's joining their many friends in wishing them an abundance of all the good things which make life sweet.

Governor May Attend.

A special from Frankfort dated Sept. 6 says: The Hon. Harry B. Hawes, of St. Louis, called on Gov. Beckham to-day and invited him to attend a meeting of the Governors of States bordering the Mississippi river from his head to the Gulf, to be held in that city early in October next, for the purpose of discussing improvements. President Roosevelt is to attend the gathering. Gov. Beckham will be on a campaign tour in Western Kentucky at the time the meeting is to be held, and will probably meet the party when it reaches the Kentucky side of the river. If possible, he will attend the meeting in St. Louis.

Nothing Like It Before.

Hickman is just now in the throes of one of the worst, or possibly the worst, house famines ever known in the history of the city. Houses are at a premium, and still there are none to rent. The Courier is besieged with applications for houses, and we are unable to fill a single application. We have rented all the houses that has been listed with us and moreover have made diligent search for more, but cannot find them.

We feel absolutely sure in saying that there are not four vacant houses in Hickman.

Just what will be done when the new factory is opened we cannot begin to imagine. We truly believe that before six weeks there will be a demand for from twenty to fifty dwellings. And what is to be done? It seems that there are a reasonable number of houses in construction here all the time, but in the face of all this it seems that the demand cannot be supplied.

What does this mean? It means that the latter part of the year 1908 the 1900 population of Hickman will be trebled. And so be it.

Messrs J. F. and S. L. Dodds have been attending the gun shoot at Union City this week. In the professional class Tuesday Guy Ward, of Walnut Log, won a fine gun. S. L. Dodds won third place Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Cathey sang "Mother, Is the Little Over?" and answered the encore with "Dixie," which was partially unheeded because of the deafening applause from the audience. For the second encore she sang "My Old Kentucky Home." Commercial Appeal. Watch for the date for Hickman soon.

A most deplorable accident occurred down in Union County last Friday afternoon. Monroe Sanders, wife (who was Miss Lizzie Brandon) and 4 children reside at "Squire J. Mat Harris old place. Mr. Sanders' daughter Lotie attends the Cloverdale High School and her father goes after his daughter every Friday afternoon.

On last Friday, as usual, he went to Cloverdale in his wagon and was returning with Miss Lotie and had reached Forrest Hill school house near John Will Thompson's when he met the McCoy boys bound for the lake—also in their wagon. The McCoy boys had stopped and were getting a drink at the school house well. Also a wagon loaded with heading partially blocked the road.

Just as the heading wagon moved up a bit to let Sanders pass, the McCoy boys returned and sat down, one placed his gun in his lap. Precisely at the very moment the gun went off accidentally. Sanders was exactly even and the lead tore the whole front part of his neck away, shot the flesh away, clear back to the neck bone. Sanders fell over dead—died without a groan and the wagon and daughter were drenched and dyed with his blood. His body was buried Sunday at Elbridge, Rev. Norman officiating.

Tyler for Permanent Secretary. The minority report concurred in the recommendations for Chairman and Secretary, but recommended two-thirds majority rule. Upon a ballot the majority rule was adopted.

The name of W. J. Jackson was placed in nomination by R. B. Platt. The name of S. L. Dodds was placed in nomination by Hon. R. T. Tyler.

Mrs. John A. Cathey (nee Miss Clara Phillips), of Brownsville, but for two years a resident of this city, has on Monday occasion charmed the music lovers of Memphis with her sweet soprano voice that she has been unanimously chosen to represent the Beethoven Club at the State convention in Jackson, Miss. Prof. Heinrich of the Metropolitan Opera Company, says there is nothing in the way of vocal accomplishment that she has not attained. One of her compositions, a mass, was sung four weeks ago in Washington, D. C., at the First Presbyterian Church, and was enthusiastically praised.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

Circuit Court.

Circuit court convened in Fulton Tuesday. Not much business has been before Court up to our press hour. John Adair was released on $1000 bond, charged with detaining a woman. Court will convene in Hickman again Monday, and will consume the remainder of the term in disposing of business which could not be reached last week.

Thos. McDermott.

Thomas McDermott, favorably known as "Uncle Tommy," died at his home near town. Wednesday. General debility was the cause of his death. Mr. McDermott, with his wife led a quiet life at his home about a mile from town, and were highly respected and generally liked.

He was a native of Ireland and came to Hickman from the old country with his brother, who recently died, when a young man. He was a consistent member of the Catholic Church. Services were conducted at the Catholic Church by Rev. Guerin, and burial took place at the City Cemetery today.

A widow and several children survive him, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Carter's Home Circle

SATURDAY NIGHT REVERIES.

Has a woman a right to make a fool of herself if a man does? This would make a good subject for debating societies. A man will stay around nights, visit the gambling dens, play poker and lose money that he ought to spend for the comfort of his family. At the same time the wife is staying home, sitting by a cheerful fire and taking care of a number of children, that she has only a half interest in. The man will visit the saloon, smoke cigars, play the wheel, drink poor whiskey, and occasionally go out with the girls that are not of his own family, while his wife is home trying to save money for the family by patching and darning and going without things for herself and the house. A man at the same time will "go out with the boys" and spend $25. Is it right? Supposing we turn the tables around and the wife commences to play the fool, for you can call it nothing else, and what will happen? Supposing the wife takes a notion to have a little time of her own? Let her go to the bowling alley, the billiard hall, the saloon. Go off to a convulsion or some other place with a lot of gay dicks and have a good time, spend the money that ought to go toward paying expenses, smoke cigarettes, drink seven different kinds of booze and come home with a bad taste in her mouth and in a generally stained condition, wouldn't it break every link that binds the Home Circle together? Morally, she has just as much right as a man to do these things. She has just as good a right to be a fool as a man, but what would happen if she should?
It is easy enough to guess. There would be divorces and other things too numerous to mention.

LOVER SEEKS AN OBJECT.

Regarded as a sentiment, love is possible in respect to principles; but, regarded as a passion, it is possible only touching a person. No one die for abstract truth. Idealize it, connect it with something tangible, and man will die for it—not before.
Even then his self-sacrifice is impelled by regard, necessity, or the force of collateral circumstances. A patriot does not lay down his life for liberty in the front rank of battle with the same feeling which fills the bosom of a frontiersman when he dies fighting at the door of his cabin in a heroic attempt to defend his wife and children from murderous savages. We admire beauty; we revere excellence; we praise modesty as elements of a character, but never until these are embodied until the eyes behold them in a physical form until the woman who, we believe, represents these qualities, stand before us, do we love them. The qualities we admire; the woman we love.
Here at this point, you see how love educates one in worthy directions.
The man loves the woman, the woman the man, and each the qualities that the other represents. Each educates the other into a finer appreciation, a truer regard, a higher emulation of the virtues each embodies, and thus, as Tennyson sings,
"They grew together, Dwarfed or Godlike, bond or free."

SOMETIME.

"Sometime"—it is a sweet, sweet song, warbled to and fro among the topmost boughs of the heart, and filling the whole world with joy and gladness as the songs of birds do when the summer morning comes out of darkness and day is born on the mountains. We have all our possessions in the future which we call "sometime." Beautiful flowers and singing birds are there, only our hands seldom grasp the one, or our ears hear the other.
But, oh reader, be of good cheer for all the good there is a golden "sometime," when all the joys and valleys of time are past; when the wear and fever, the disappointment and sorrow of life are over, then there is the place and the rest appointed of God. Oh homestead, over

FRANK SMITH, Agt.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and hard colds on the chest. Ask your doctor about it.

whose roof fall no shadows, or even clouds; and over whose threshold the voice of sorrow is never heard; built upon the eternal hills, and standing with thy spires and phantasies of celestial beauty among the palm trees of the city on high, those who love God shall rest under thy shadows, where there is no sorrow, no pain, nor the sound of weeping,
"sometime"

MARRIAGE.

Marriage has in it less beauty, but more safety than single life; it has not more ease but less danger, it is more merry and more sad, it is fuller of sorrows and fuller of joys; it lies under more burdens, it is supported by all the strength of love and charity, and those burdens are delightful. Marriage is the mother of the world, and preserves kingdoms, and fills cities and churches and heaven itself. Celibacy, like the fly in the heart of an apple, dwells in perpetual sweetness, but sits alone, and is confined, and dies in singularity; but marriage, like the useful bee builds a house and gathers sweetness from every flower, and labors and unites into societies and republics and sends out colonies; and feeds the world with delicacies, and obeys thinking, and keeps order, and exercises many virtues, and promotes the interest of mankind, and is that state of good to which God hath designed the present constitution of the world.

HOW TO BEGIN THE DAY.

Rise with a lark, but not for one.
Be very careful to attire yourself bravely; ourselves, like our salads, are always better for a good dressing. Shave unmistakably for you descend from your room; chin, like oysters, should have their beards taken off before they are permitted to go down. Start with determination to be agreeable and good tempered, and that like an overwhelming fire, nothing shall put you out. Should the tea not be hot, take it cool; should the ham not be salt, simulate the philosopher Bacon, and having made a few pleasant observations about the milk of human kindness, the sugar of domestic felicity, the cup of happiness being full, the butter resembling an actor in a fresh part, because it appears in a new roll, conclude with the appropriate ballad of "Let the toast pass," cracking fresh eggs and stale jokes simultaneously.

BEAUTY OF OLD PEOPLE.

Men and women make their own beauty or their own ugliness. Lon-Lytton speaks of a man "who was uglier than he had any business to be," and if he could but read it, every human being carries his life in his face, and in good looking or the reverse as his life has been good or evil. On our features the fine chisels of life and emotion are eternally at work. Beauty is not the monopoly of blooming young men and pink and white maidens. There is a slow growing beauty which only comes to perfection in old age. Grace belongs to no period of life and improves the longer it exists.

A Kentucky Colonel the First Victim.

The first victim of the Texas law prohibiting drinking on trains was, and perhaps with some appropriateness—a Kentucky colonel, says the Baltimore Sun. The Kentuckian had a pocket flask, decorously concealed in the folds of a frock coat. The journey was a long one and in the course of his travels the gentleman from the Blue Grass State—and likewise the State of many distilleries, licensed and illicit—felt a dryness in his throat and decided to try the Kentucky remedy. In a dignified and deliberate way he walked to the ice cooler in the coach, drew his flask with a becoming modesty, moistened his throat and was about to return the flask to its hiding place, when some one touched him on the shoulder. With the cordiality and good fellowship which are characteristic of the Kentuckian he immediately offered his flask to the stranger, invited him to partake and then, as a Kentucky gentleman always should, turned aside so that he might not seem to be watching to see how much of the liquor should be consumed.
But this was no congenial spirit, no comrade suffering from drouth, but a minion of the law who arrested the colonel. The latter paid $10 and costs, and it is said that it may be years before he recovers from the shock.
